Secret Thoughts of Successful Women

We will have Valerie Young on campus in March. Valerie is the author of "The Secret Thoughts of Successful Women: Why Capable Suffer from the Impostor Syndrome and How to Thrive in Spite of It"

Her website (<http://www.impostorsyndrome.com/>) is most interesting, with quotes from famous women (like Meryl Streep and Maya Angelou), as well as a quiz that you can take. She presents all over the country to packed audiences. We will send out more information closer to the date!

Truth Values: MIT's Math Maze

Gioia de Carlo is a former Ph.D. student in Math at M.I.T. Her one-woman play "Truth Values: One Woman's Romp Through M.I.T.'s Male Math Maze" is a 75-minute solo show that is humorous, insightful and ultimately uplifting true-life tale of the challenges of being a professional woman in a male-dominated field. We are hoping to bring her to campus the end of April. We will need to solicit the support of the broader campus and community - if you are interested in helping, let us know!

Career Networking Awards

Would you like some funds to support your research activities? You can get up to $2500 to bring in distinguished speakers or collaborators, travel to work with other researchers in your field, attend some specific research-related training, and more! All you have to do is ask. Go to the ADVANCEing Faculty website (www.advance.latech.edu), go to the "Career Networking Awards" tab, complete the application form, and email it to us at advance@latech.edu

Our next Faculty Lunch at the Ropp will be Friday, January 25 from 12:30–1:30 p.m. Join us for networking and professional development and learn about the programs we offer to assist you!
