

Newsletter

February 2013

Secret Thoughts of Successful Women

Valerie Young, author of "The Secret Thoughts of Successful Women: Why Capable Suffer from the Impostor Syndrome and How to Thrive in Spite of It," will be on campus Tuesday, March 19. She will give three workshops: "Learn How to Help Your Students Succeed," a workshop for all faculty from 8–9:30 a.m.; "Learn How to Avoid Procrastination, Perfectionism, and other Success-Zapping Strategies" for graduate students (encourage yours to come!) from 10:15–11:45 a.m.; and "Learn How to Boost your Own Success," a workshop specifically for women faculty from 12 noon–2 p.m. Space is limited! To sign up, email us at advance@latech.edu

Our next Faculty Lunch at the Ropp will be Friday, March 8 from 12:30–1:30 p.m. Join us for networking and professional development and learn about the programs we offer to assist you!

Truth Values: MIT's Math Maze

Gioia de Cari, alum of Cal Berkley and M.I.T., will be bringing her one-woman play "Truth Values: One Woman's Romp Through M.I.T.'s Male Math Maze" to town this spring on Thursday, April 25 at the Dixie Theater in downtown Ruston. Tickets will be available for a $5 donation to SWE. It is a 75-minute solo show that is humorous, insightful and ultimately uplifting true-life tale of the challenges of being a professional woman in a male-dominated field.

NSF CAREER Writing Group

Planning to write an NSF CAREER proposal this year? Consider joining our NSF CAREER Writing Group this spring. The group of faculty will meet once a week during Spring Quarter. We will look at best practices, review successful CAREER proposals, and do some peer-editing of your own writing, as well as solicit some reviewers for your proposal. Interested? Sign up by emailing us at advance@latech.edu

Questions? Want more information about the ADVANCEing Faculty Program? Contact the Office for Women in Science and Engineering (OWISE) at:

advance@latech.edu

call us at 257-2101, or check out our website at:

www.advance.latech.edu