October 2012

Sit With Me

Sit With Me is a national advocacy campaign designed to encourage women in science, technology, engineering and mathematics careers. For example, only 18% of undergraduate engineering majors today are women. To compete globally and meet the worlds' Grand Challenges, we must capitalize on the power of gender diversity.

Want to get involved? Stop by the OWISE Office in Bogard Hall 201 or visit: www.sitwithme.org

Sometimes you have to sit to take a stand

OWISE Library

We have lots of great professional development books in the OWISE Library that you can check out for free! "Women Don't Ask" and "Ask For It" focus on securing the resources you need to effectively do your job. "Why So Slow" is a great book if you want to understand more about gender issues and their impact on your career. "Why So Few" is a concise look at some key gender issues, the research behind them and concrete steps for addressing them. "Whistling Vivaldi" is an in-depth look at stereotype threat and how it affects each of us. You can check any of these out—just stop by the Dean's Office and talk with Ms. Shultz

NSF Grant Writing Assistance

Are you planning to submit an NSF grant? We have staff assistance to help! Ms. Shultz in the Dean's Office can set up your grant in Fastlane, create and upload Bio Sketches, Current and Pending Support Forms, Budget and Budget Justification documents, as well as upload any other documents you may have. Just contact Sylvia at sshultz@latech.edu at least two weeks prior to the due date of the grant. Questions? Contact Jenna at jenna@latech.edu

Our next Faculty Lunch at Bogard 301 will be Friday, November 2 from 12:30–1:30 p.m.

Join us for networking and professional development and learn about the programs we offer to assist you!
